FIFTH. The home institution will submit the required documents of the selected students to the host institution for information and admittance purposes, on the deadline date indicated by the host institution.

SIXTH. Students participating in the exchange program will pay their own registration and tuition fees at their home institution. The host institution will not charge them for these items.

If requested, the host institution will provide course descriptions and curricula vitae of the professors with whom the exchange students have taken classes, as well as information on the institution's grading system.

NINTH. The students selected for the exchange will have the same rights and responsibilities, academic and administrative, that the receiving institution contemplates for its own students. Exchange students must abide by the laws and university regulations and may be subject to the sanctions contemplated in case of non-compliance with this section; in this case, the home institution must be informed. Exchange students will not obtain a degree from the receiving institution.

transportation, lodging, food and international medical insurance.

The institution sending academic personnel shall be responsible for covering their salaries.

FIFTEENTH. The academic personnel participating in this Agreement must carry out the procedures provided for in the regulations of their institution of origin, so that they may be authorized to be absent from their academic work during the time of their stay at the receiving institution.

SIXTEENTH. The academic personnel participating in this exchange program will be responsible for all additional expenses generated by the exchange, such as transportation, lodging, food and international medical insurance.
